ROBIN

IT'S A SMALL WORLD, DECLARES AN OLD SAYING, AND IT'S AN EVEN SMALLER WORLD THAN USUAL IN ONE CORNER OF MODERN AMERICA WHERE THE ELVES AND LEOPARDS AND LITTLE PEOPLE OF A JEWEL CITY SEEM TO DWELL.

HOWEVER, THESE LITTLE PEOPLE ARE NOT LEGEND. THEY'RE REAL FACT, AND WHEN CRAZY MOBSTERS TRY TO EXPLOIT THAT FACT FOR CRIME, BATMAN AND ROBIN AND THEIR YOUNG LIES SEEK TO BRING THEM DOWN.

THE BATMAN OF TIMOTHY LEARY

LET'S LOOK IN ON A STRANGE AND LITTLE KNOWN AMERICAN TOWN.

IT DOESN'T LOOK STRANGE AT FIRST GLANCE,
DOES IT? YET IT'S THE ODDEST TOWN IN THE WORLD.

ANY TROUBLE
HERE?

NO, MAYOR HAWKINS,
THERE'S NO CRIME IN OUR TOWN.

SUDDENLY...

OUTSIDE! THEY'RE

ROLLER SKATES

They're Super!

Ask the kids
who have 'em

A quarter of a lake, and I'm gyping myself.

"Sold," said the trashman, happily.

"Sold," said Chetm two days later, and handed over the dollar and a half Lake demanded. "Did you ever see such a tie?" he gurgled to Parton. "Look at it. Look at those colors." He muffed at the tie. "Hand-painted. It's a steal."

"I am glad you mentioned 'steal,'" said Parton, sourly. "Come on. Let's pick up the boys and get to work." He looked distastefully at Chetm, who was shuddering a less flamboyant tie and donning the sunburst number. "You mean you're going to wear that thing?"

"Why not?" Chetm said unabashed. "It was made to be worn."

It was nearly midnight when Parton and Chetm, after picking up the two men who were going to use acetylene torches to cut through the wall of Angelo's studio, and into Wolf the Farmer's place, stopped their car around the corner from Angelo Toleretti's home.

Parton looked at his watch. "The cops'll be changing shifts in a few minutes," he said. "You stay around in front of the studio, Chetm. You know the signal."

Chetm nodded. Right.

Angelo Toleretti looked sleepily as he opened the door in response to Parton's ring. The sleepiness was over when he saw the glare come back again as Parton stepped from Parton pushed Angelo back into the hall as the arrival of the cops would help. Okay, he said. The cops are up and start cutting up through the wall. I figure we can do the job in an hour. Carefully, he left his door slightly ajar. A case of beer had to open it and what was the signal? "This is going to be a soft touch," Parton said to the boys. "At the usual skins we can handle it."

Outside, Chetm fumbled in his pockets for a match, intending to light his cigarette. He paused to the act as a blue-coated policeman turned the corner. It was Officer Martin O'Clare, making the rounds of his beat.

And Officer O'Clare was in a fighting mood. For O'Clare, just prior to reporting to the station house, had discovered that his own tie was missing. Mrs. O'Clare insisted he'd sent it to the cleaners. But O'Clare had his suspicions. Being a good police officer he could not, without evidence, give voice to them. But if he did get "lost"—and he strongly suspected his wife would insist it had—on a few days he was going to assert himself.

Chetm was lighting his cigarette as O'Clare came abreast of him. "Good evening, officer," Chetm said. O'Clare touched his stick in his cap automatically, mouthed "Evening, sir."

Then, suddenly something caught his eye and he stopped. Something familiar. Something bright. He turned quickly. "Where did you get that tie?" he demanded.

The man who Chetm dropped he lighted match. "Why? I bought it in a store," he lied. "Lacy's."

O'Clare's brow furrowed. "You did not," he chafed. "In a tie whose world there is but one tie like this." He peered at Chetm. "I've seen you before. Somewhere. Haven't I?"

Although rather Chetm managed to regain his composure. He'd have to huff it out with his comb and crazy cap. "Sure," he lied. "A number of years ago I was trying to get into Angelo's house. Matter of fact, I just came from there."

"You just came from there?" There was a strange gleam in O'Clare's voice, and Chetm trembled. This was no ordinary cop. There was a margin. The way he was glaring at Chetm was proof Chetm put nervous fingers over his tie.

"You just came from Angelo's and you?" said O'Clare triumphantly, and he didn't mention that he'd suppose. His hand closed around Chetm's arm, and he said softly. "If I'm wrong, I'm a big fool. Just the same, you and me are going to see Angelo. Now."

A policeman of O'Clare's caliber could not be surprised twice in one night. Besides, he backs of Parton and his two accomplices. The torch welders were lined up, giving O'Clare plenty of time to get his gun out. And here was plenty of time for O'Clare to see the back of the wagon arrived to take the four crooks away.

ALL THE THRILLING EXPLOITS OF BATMAN AND ROBIN IS THE WILD ADVENTURE THAT TAKES THE TWO GREAT CRIME-FIGHTERS LITERALLY OUT OF THIS WORLD. FOR WHEN A GLOBE FORTY MILLION MILES AWAY FROM OUR EARTH CALLS FOR HELP, THE DYNAMIC DUO PLUNGES ACROSS THE GULF OF SPACE TO RESPOND. SECRET?

HELLO,
ROBIN!

TAKEN TO THE BATCAVE, THUNDERMAN,
MARTIAN SCIENTIST, EXPLAINS!

FOR AGES MARS WAS CRIMELESS, THEN
SAX GOLA, A SCIENTIST, INVENTED A RAY
THAT AFFECTED HIS BRAIN AND MADE HIM A CRIMINAL. USING THIS RAY ON OTHERS, HE FORMED A BAND-

HE SEEKS TO RULE MARS NOW. WE MARTIANS DON'T KNOW HOW TO CONQUER HIM, BUT YOU TWO THE GREATEST CRIME FIGHTERS IN THE WORLD COULD.

IT'S A STRANGE MISSION, BUT IF WE'RE NEEDED ON MARS, WE'LL GO.

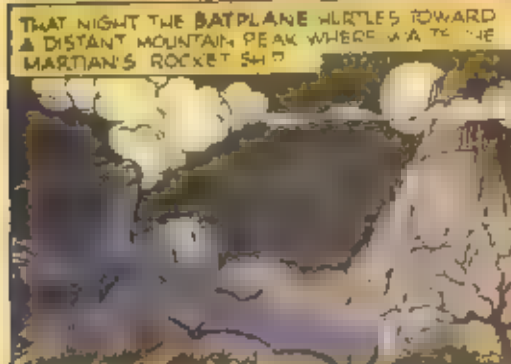

GOOD. WE'LL LEAVE EARTH TONIGHT IN MY "SPACE SHIP."

THAT NIGHT THE BATPLANE WHIRLS TOWARD A DISTANT MOUNTAIN PEAK WHERE LIES THE MARTIAN'S ROCKET SHIP.

WE'LL TAKE OFF IMMEDIATELY.

FOR MARS? I STILL EXPECT TO WAKE UP SOONER.

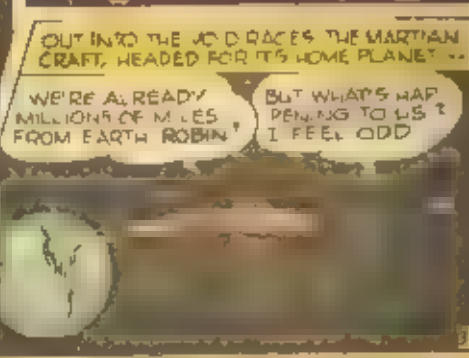

A MIGHTY ROAR OF FLAME HERALDS THE RUSH OF THE "SPACE SHIP" INTO TOOL-KLESS SPACE.

OUT INTO THE VOID RACES THE MARTIAN CRAFT, HEADED FOR ITS HOME PLANET...

WE'RE ALREADY MILLIONS OF MILES FROM EARTH, ROBIN.

BUT WHAT'S HAPPENING TO US? I FEEL ODD.

IN INTERPLANETARY SPACE A STRANGE PHENOMENON STRIKES

WOW, what a show you can give with a home circus like this!

The trunks of the two elephants actually move. The four agile acrobats do real tricks. The merry-go-round goes round and round!

And that's not all... there's a bowing kangaroo, a seal that balances a ball, two horses with bareback riders, three funny clowns, two monkeys, two bears, and a big, bright-colored circus tent to house the whole show.

It's all die-cut, photographed in gay circus colors on durable cardboard. Nothing to cut. Nothing to paste.

SHOOT SAFE BUDDY!

BOYS! SHOW THIS MESSAGE TO YOUR PARENTS!

You'll never see a real outdoorsman aim or shoot his rifle at anything but a safe proper target. He handles his firearms with care and respect. Your Daisy is made for fun shooting. It is not a lethal weapon but... like a knife or auto it may cause damage if handled carelessly. So do not aim or shoot at windows, street lights, song-birds, pets, property or any other person... ever! Remember, carelessness causes accidents to millions of Americans every year in cars, homes, factories. So... if you are careless with your Daisy or abuse the privilege of owning one, your parents, guardian or police have the right to take it from you, and should. Don't let this happen. Be careful. Aim and shoot safe, Buddy!
